Destroy My Evil Empire, My Son

“My son, I Am with you. Destroy My Evil Empire. Your country has got to go- it is evil beyond belief! My son, I know every baby aborted, and flushed down the toilet, every fetus killed with drugs before it is born. It is commonplace among women who do not want to raise their children but continue on in their sins. Yes, My people are very evil. Satanism is rampant while My people do nothing, My son. My Eye sees all, all evil in the government, wickedness and evil in the military, and deep within the hearts of man I know all wickedness. Yes, all evil starts in the heart of mankind, and it spreads rapidly to others everywhere. Repent while there is still time, O wicked mankind, for the time is short in the land. Soon this land shall be no more, conquered by foreign armies. Already they’re assembling overseas against you. Spies are everywhere, planning their next move against you. Your economy will collapse hard, then what will you do? While America is immobilized by a paralyzed economy, your enemies will advance against you. Soon America will be no more. The country that exported evil overseas will have evil subjected to it. Then that will be the end. Repent. Your LORD has spoken.”
